

SETTING DOCUMENT PROPERTIES IN INKSCAPE

When you create a new document in Inkscape you can set up the document properties by choosing File>Document Properties or Ctrl+Shift+D. There are a lot of options in this menu but for the time being all we need to worry about is getting the page size correct.

- It's important that for your poster project you select the correct page size rather than using the default document! We are using an A3 page for our poster and although it doesn't matter too much if you create vector art on the wrong page size (we can always resize that) you will get a better result with imported bitmaps if you bring them in on the final page size (you can see roughly how the bitmap will fit on the page and whether or not it is at a suitable resolution).
